FLAMES THREATEN PART OF ANACOSTIA

Fire in Oyster House Spreads to Adjoining Building and Menaces
Business Section for Time—Four Engine Companies
Fight Several Hours to Control Blaze.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.

ANACOSTIA, D. C., SEPT. 20.

Anacostia's business section was threatened by fire last evening, and four engine companies fought for several hours to control the flames and protect adjoining property. Edward Brazell discovered the fire on the premises of Thomas A. Sears, proprietor of an oyster house at 126 Good Hope road, and turned in the alarm. The fire originated from the gas cooker in the rear of the building.

The blaze spread to the large frame store and storage rooms of Dae & Kogok, fruit dealers, and it appeared as though the flames would sweep through the entire store district.

The firemen of No. 15 fire engine company were first on the ground, and they were followed by the automobile apparatus from Congress Heights, which arrived but a few moments later, after making an extraordinary run. Several engine companies from the city assisted them.

Sears' stock was damaged, $300 representing his loss. The building was damaged to the extent of $200. Dae & Kogok's stock was injured to the amount of $300, and the building about $200. The stock of candy, fruit, etc., was ruined.

The property is owned by James Poulos, of Washington, and there is a partial insurance.

Anacostia's residential section is being improved by the erection of several modern homes. John Wegman is building at 1913 Seventeenth street a two-story brick residence. H. E. Miller is building at 236 High street a two-story brick dwelling. Julius Owens has completed a two-story brick dwelling in Minnesota avenue, opposite Eighteenth street.

Thomas Edwards has remodeled his residence in Talburt street, near Nichols avenue. Margaret Soper is having changes made in her residence in V street, near Thirteenth street. Irene Kountz has had built onto her home, at Nichols avenue, a two-story brick addition.

The interior of the Anacostia Masonic hall, which has been improved lately in various ways, has been repainted and presents a handsome appearance.

The legislative committee of the Public Improvement Association of Congress Heights has made up its budget for inclusion in the next estimates of the District Commissioners. Included are requests that appropriations be made for a survey of the Oxon Hill tract, for the improvement of the street to establish a public park; that the principal streets in Congress Heights be graded and graveled at a total cost of several thousand dollars and that sewers be provided between the terminus of the present line in Nichols avenue and the grounds of St. Elizabeth's Asylum, as well as in Milwaukee place from Nichols avenue westward.

The Public Improvement Association will greet President W. Wilson in a few days, when he will return from his trip to Europe, and the first meeting of the fall will be held soon.

Report of a robbery in the home of James Hayes, in Milwaukee place, Congress Heights, has been the subject of an investigation by the police. The police were notified that $300 was taken from Hayes' apartment. The young man reached home one night about 10:30 o'clock, according to the report made to the authorities, and on going upstairs met an intruder, whose identity has not been learned. The man rushed out of the door and disappeared. The door had been left unlocked until Hayes came home.

When he reached his room he found that $300 in cash, in a bureau drawer, was missing.

Police from the Fifth precinct, who were looking into the theft of bicycles from places in the city, visited Anacostia last night, and took two boys into custody. One of the boys was found looking at the fire at Nichols avenue and Good Hope road. The other was arrested in Twining City. They will be held pending investigation.

The fall season of the Men's Club of the Congress Heights M. E. Church opened last night. J. O. Manson, of the Treasury Department, made an address on the money issued by the United States. There was a social meeting afterward, when refreshments were served.

The Epworth League of the Anacostia M. E. Church will give a play in a few weeks, rehearsals being in progress.

At the meeting of Minola Tribe, No. 14, Improved Order of Red Men, last night, the proposed juvenile branch of the order, which was explained by Henry W. Tippet, past great sachem of the District, received unanimous approval.

Washington's 1,740 public school teachers are putting in one of their busiest days of the year today in preparation for the opening of the schools Monday morning. From 10 o'clock this morning until late this afternoon meetings between them and their principals and supervisors will be in progress, at which the work for the ensuing year will be outlined and new teachers will be instructed in the program which they will be expected to follow.

The supervising principals of the white schools met the teachers of their respective divisions in their office buildings at 10:30 this morning. Meetings of the principals of the white high schools and their teaching staffs were scheduled for today as follows: McKinley Manual Training School, 10:30 a. m.; Business High School, 2 p. m.; Central High School, 3 p. m.; Eastern High School, 3 p. m.; and Western High School, 3:30 p. m.

Miss E. V. Brown, director of primary instruction, is meeting this afternoon with all the teachers of the first and second grades, whose appointment occurred on or since September 1, last, and with all recently promoted third and fourth grade teachers, the meeting being in the Thompson School building. Monday afternoon, at 2:30 the director of kindergarten teachers at the Thompson School.

The high and normal school principals of the colored schools met their teachers in the assembly hall of the M street High School at 10 o'clock today.

Approximately thirty new teachers were appointed by the school board at its meeting yesterday afternoon, though the most of them are teachers who have been away from the city on leave, or who up to the present time have been probationary and substitute teachers.

All 1913 graduates of the M street Wilson Normal School, regular course, were appointed substitute teachers in the graded schools, and those who completed the kindergarten course, there were appointed substitute teachers in the kindergartens.

To Meet Thursday.

The board announced that its ways and means committee will meet at the Franklin School next Thursday at 3 o'clock to consider expenditures for the coming year. Civic associations and other organizations interested in making improvements in school buildings and grounds are invited to send representatives to discuss such matters with the committee.

The membership of the committee comprises Messrs. Blair, Daniel, and Larner, Mrs. Modjes, and Mr. Marshall. This and other standing committee were named by the board at its meeting yesterday.

Another act of the board was to issue an order, to the effect that the institution at Tenth and street southward, heretofore known as the Potomac School, shall hereafter be called the Isaac Fairbrother School, after one of Washington's most renowned educators.

The high school admission board is today meeting students who wish to enter the high schools this year, but who are not graduates of the local public schools. These who are entitled to an examination will be examined at the Franklin school on Monday. The board expects more than 300 such applications.
